Trainer Expectations and Responsibilities:

_____ ["Owner"] hereby retain

to train _____[the "Dog(s)"] under the following terms and conditions:

Location. The dog(s) will stay at the training facility during training, and the trainer will take reasonable steps to keep the dog safe, comfortable, appropriately exercised, and happy. The trainer will, if necessary, take the dog to locations and property for socialization, training and veterinary care.

Equipment and Methods Used. Trainer may use a combination of positive reinforcement techniques along with a variety of tools including prong and e-collar training. These are all used in different configurations depending on the goals to be achieved and the place in the dog's training.

Training The Trainer will work with your dog a minimum of two (2) sessions per training day. Owner understands that during the 28-day training period the Trainer may have days off work. The total amount of training time will always be such that Trainer keeps dog on track to achieving goals. Owner understands and agrees that the length of training required, and what can be accomplished, depends in part on the Dog's prior experience and capacity to learn. Owner also understands and agrees that obedience training generally requires 28 days but may take longer in some cases.

Refunds: Training Payment is Not Refundable No refunds are available on Board & Train Packages. Trainer will be available for phone calls and emails for a 3-month period after the Board & Train to help owner maintain training.

Evaluation and goals. The trainer and the owner will evaluate the dog's current skill levels and identify unsatisfactory areas needing improvement. Training will focus on the areas identified as unsatisfactory during the initial evaluation. In general, the goals for the dog are:

1. To be in control and polite around other dogs and people.
2. To perform basic pet obedience upon command: sit, heel, come, down, leave it, free, stay, etc.
3. Perform off leash and on leash basic obedience commands in real-life scenarios, such as: Sit-stay as a door is opened; Leave It while passing another dog.
4. To improve upon identified bad habits that may exist, such as chewing, barking, jumping on people, rushing through doorways, counter-surfing, protective behaviors, and begging for food at the table, as described in the client interview.

Re-evaluation/ Transfer Session. Transfer Session scheduled for the Dog's go-home day, will review with the owner training to be implemented at home to maintain training goals. Transfer Session is to show Owner Dog's new skills, and to instruct owner how to practice and how to integrate those skills into daily life and support them with positive reinforcement. The owner and the trainer will re-evaluate the dog and identify whether the dog has met the goals. If the dog has not met some goals, the owner and trainer will discuss whether these goals can be achieved by the dog with at home training and will consider additional training.

Expectations. It may not be possible in some cases to achieve all goals. For example, a dog may have a medical condition that prevents the dog from being reliably housebroken, or the dog's temperament may be aggressive by nature and not amenable to behavior modification. The trainer will notify the owner if any areas are identified where goals need to be modified. In most cases, however, all goals should be achievable given appropriate time and owner's compliance with homework. Trainer makes no guarantee on results of training. Client agrees that training is a process and that without following through on instructions and at home post board and train may not yield desired results.

Owners Expectations and Responsibilities

Maintenance of Goals. The owner recognizes that this training will result in the dog obeying the trainer, and that this will not train the dog to obey the owner. In order for the dog to obey the owner, the following must occur:

1. The owner must understand the basic principles of training (covered in the transfer session).
2. To use the cues (commands) supplied by Trainer and to integrate training into daily life.
3. The owner must not interact with the dog in a way that rewards bad behavior and/or punishes good behavior.
4. The owner must regularly train the dog to maintain the level of training achieved.

Fee. The fee for the training described in this contract for board and train is _____ for the _____ week minimum with 1 transfer private lesson on a pick up day. Fee is due in full at the drop of.

Dog Food & Other Items for the Dog. Owner acknowledges that the dog's food and any needed medication for the duration of the stay is the Owner's responsibility and should be dropped off with the dog. Please plan to provide one extra week of food than planned stay in case we feed more, dog must stay a couple extra unplanned days. If there is no sufficient food for your dog, food fee of $150 will be due at pick up.

The Owner acknowledges that he/she may also drop off toys, a dog bed or blankets from home to assist in making the dog as comfortable as possible. However, the Owner acknowledges that there is a chance these items can be damaged or lost. As such, the Owner agrees that trainer will not be held responsible or liable for any lost, stolen or damaged personal property belonging to Owner or his or her dog.

Veterinary Care. If the dog requires non-emergency veterinary care during the training period, the trainer will make a reasonable attempt to contact the owner so the owner can obtain veterinary care for the dog. If the owner cannot be reached or is unable to tend to the dog's need for veterinary care, or in the case of an emergency, the trainer will arrange on behalf of the owner for veterinary care to which the owner consents as set forth below. All veterinary fees are the responsibility of the owner. If convenient, the trainer will take the dog to the dog's regular veterinarian, but the trainer reserves the right to take the dog to a veterinarian selected by the trainer, using reasonable care in the selection of a veterinarian. Trainer will take all reasonable and necessary precautions during the training process to avoid injury. However, sometimes an illness or condition that was not diagnosed or discovered previously may present during the training period. When this happens, we need to be able to get the emergency care needed. Owner hereby consents to the following veterinary care for the dog and gives the trainer authority to consent to such a treatment as the agent of the owner:

1. In the event that Trainer cannot reach the owners or the owners cannot get to their dog, Trainer will be allowed to make decisions regarding emergency care reasonably required to save the dog's life, to preserve the use of organs or limbs, or to alleviate severe pain.
2. In the event that Trainer cannot reach the owners, Trainer will be allowed to make decisions regarding emergency euthanasia, only if (a) recommended by the veterinarian, (b) the owner cannot be reached after reasonable attempts, (c) treatment is not likely to be successful, and (d) the dog may be suffering or the expense of continued treatment may be unreasonable in light of the likely outcome.
3. If a not serious but contagious (and hindering training) illness is detected, the dog may need to go back to the owner's home for recovery. After that, the dog can return with new dates for training.

4. The owner must arrange all other veterinary care, when possible. The trainer's time and transportation expenses must also be reimbursed. The owner will cover all and any veterinary expenses involved in treatment, medications, hospitalization, and so on.
5. Nondisclosure of any known medical issues with the dog will result in contract termination, and trainer will keep non-refundable fees or be owed additional fees if Board & Train progressed beyond the first week.

Abandonment of your canine companion here. Boarding services will accrue while your dog remains here after board and train program is completed (generally four weeks). After not hearing from you for more than a week, we will try to rehome the dog, allow a rescue to rehome the dog, or possibly keep the dog as our own. Your abandonment of your dog and/or nonpayment of services automatically transfers your dog to our ownership or guardianship. You are still liable for any damages or services that your dog incurs during your abandonment.

Photo and Video Release Owner hereby grants Trainer the absolute right and permission to copyright, use, re-use, publish, and republish videos, photographic portraits or pictures of my pets (listed above) taken during animal behavior consultations, training sessions, and in relation to other animal-behavior contexts. The photos and videos may be used for advertising, marketing, educational, trade, or any other purposes
